AUBURN -- "We All Live in a Watershed," a public television program filmed in Placer County, will air on Sacramento PBS station KVIE-Channel 6 at 5 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 29.

A preview screening of the half-hour segment was offered following Thursday's (Oct. 19) meeting of the Placer County Water Agency Board of Directors.

Produced by well-known PBS host Huell Howser, "We All Live in a Watershed" demonstrates the importance of watershed in maintaining clean, safe and healthy supplies of water.

Filmed mainly along the American River and PCWA canal system, the segment includes appearances and comments by geologist Marie Davis, forest ranger Jan Cutts, river rafting guide Nate Rangel and Sierra Nevada Conservancy executive director Jim Branham.

The segment is part of the "California's Water" series which is now airing up and down the state.
